The Island Park Festival is celebrating the end of summer, drawing hundreds of artists, food vendors and tourists to the pristine trees of Island Park for Labor Day weekend. The two-day event kicked off Friday morning and continues until 7 p.m. Saturday. Now in its third year, the festival delights families and locals from across the region, who come to enjoy the unique gifts and activities offered.

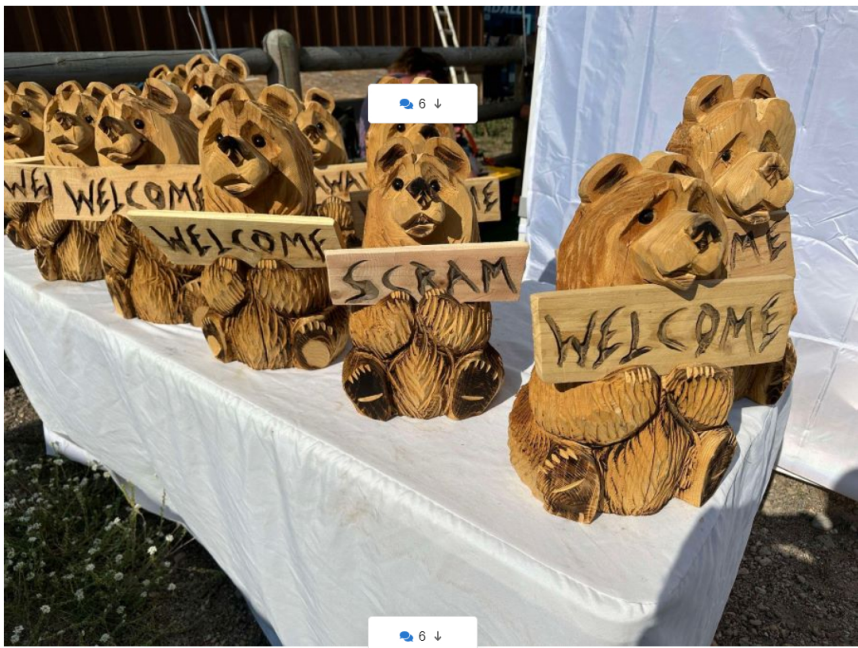

Catch the action, and enjoy this gallery of photos from the Island Park Festival Saturday morning.
